valerie^{objects}

valerie_objects is an Antwerp-based design label initiated by Axel Van Den Bossche and art director Veerle Wenes, combining their professional and personal taste for all things good and beautiful.

By allowing designers, architects and artists to translate their signature style into tangible objects, valerie_objects has become a unique collection of everyday items with out-of-the-box aesthetics. These are objects people truly get entangled with.

Maarten Baas is considered to be one of the most influential Dutch contemporary designers. He is often described as an “author designer,” of which his works lie on the boundaries between art and design. His work is known as rebellious, playful, intellectual, theatrical and artistic. Baas’ designs contain a huge amount of spontaneity and naivety. He translates the human touch into a mechanically produced design objects. “In a quick sketch, beauty is often found”, he says. “But those spontaneous lines are often lost in an industrial process.” And so, Baas adds organic forms and wobbly lines to an otherwise very straight-lined design world. His work has been collected by leading museums such as MoMa (New York), Victoria and Albert Museum (London), Les Arts Décoratifs (Paris), Stedelijk Museum and Rijksmuseum (Amsterdam) and other prestigious galleries worldwide.

Dutch designer Maarten Baas shapes objects in a sketchy and nearly childlike way. The cutlery he has designed for valerie_objects materialises the spontaneous hand-drawings of the designer. In a world where machines are built to produce straight lines, Baas’ irregular shapes, like the wobbly knife-edge for instance, are quite hard to manufacture. The cutlery set consists of seven pieces: a table and a dessert version of knife, spoon and fork with an additional coffee spoon. All items are separately available as well.

is a Japanese designer who is active in interior design, product design and architecture and has been awarded numerously. He runs both the Koichi Futatsumata Studio, focusing on objects and Case-Real, a firm specialized in space design. His designs are refined and poetic, enunciating an aesthetic of tranquility. "I always try to innovate the beauty of an object while maintaining its functionality", Futatsumata says. He is always exploring new aesthetics, forms and ideas. His work has been included in the permanent collection of the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art and in other public collections.

The cutlery set by Japanese designer Koichi Futatsumata for valerie_objects combines a flat surface with an octagonal section. With this cutlery, the flat surfaces remain at the ends; the main part of the body is octagonal in shape. The set includes a table knife, fork, spoon and coffee spoon, made from stainless steel.

Nendo is the alias of Japanese designer Oki Sato (1977). From 2002 on, he has grown into being one of the most famous designers of the world today. He won countless of awards from magazines and institutions such as Dezeen, Wallpaper and Maison & Objet and his work has been collected by Museum of Modern Art (New York), Musée des Arts Décoratifs (Paris), Victoria and Albert Museum (London) and many others. Sato is known to work at four hundred projects at the same time and creates poetic minimalist objects with a humorous twist, often consisting of nothing more than the contours. 'I see outlines everywhere'.

The cutlery "skeleton" has been reduced to the absolute minimum, limiting the amount of material used whilst still retaining its functionality, left remaining is the outline of the cutlery like the image of a skeleton reflected in an X-ray.

It can be hooked and stored in various places in the kitchen and the teaspoon can be hooked onto the rim of the cup.

There are four items, a spoon, fork, knife, and teaspoon, the set also has a dedicated stand and wall hook to display the set.

The cutlery is also available with a black PVD coating.
